Callahan, "No," the defendant replied.

Q.—Did Michael Moore shoot John Donovan? A.—No (more emphatically this time).

Q.—Did you see the gun? A.—I might have, but I can't swear.

Telling the story of the day before the murder date and the night of the murder itself, O'Donnell testified that on December 28 he saw Callahan at Roxbury Crossing where Donovan's car was being driven by a taxi. That night Donovan telephoned O'Donnell to ask if he knew the name of the taxi driver.

On December 29, in the evening O'Donnell said, he was in the Columbus city apartment he rented

"Donovan came in about 9 o'clock," testified O'Donnell, "and greeted the gang. Then he called me into the kitchen and said: 'There's a place over in Southy that I've been watching. In cross-examining O'Donnell, Asst. Dist. Atty. McDonnell read to him part of a statement made by the defendant to the prosecutor in Charles St. Jail.

This statement said the Donevan car stopped in A st., and that two cars circled around it, the death shots coming from one of the two strange machines.

O'Donnell admitted making the

HIGH LIVING IS CAUSE GIVEN FOR FALL

Heavy plunges in oil stocks, coupled with a mode of life far out of proportion to his actual earning capacity, are blamed for the termination of the brilliant career of Joseph C. Hanson, special justice in the Wallham court under arrest for larceny of $12,000.

Out on bail of $15,000 furnished by Thomas F. Ryan, former Weston motorcycle police officer, Hanson is now awaiting consideration of his case by the grand jury. While the amounts named in the complaints against him total only $12,377.72, it is reported that a further checkup will disclose a loss in excess of $60,000 from his transactions in the estates of Shadrach Housman, of which he was administrator, and Katherine Forbes, of which he was trustee.

Although Hanson has denied his guilt, he is reported as saying when arrested: "When a man does wrong he should be punished."

In contrast to his notorious rise from a humble newsboy to a position of court justice and lawyer, is the tumble from fame at the start of a happy marital life with a pretty bride of a few months.

While various investments in oil stocks is reported to be the cause of Hanson's difficulty, police say that he has been living at the rate of between $24,000 and $25,000 a year, entertaining extensively at his "clubhouse" "House to the Rock" in the Kendall Green section of Weston, and on his New Hampshire farm. His actual earnings were reported to be about $7500 a year. Whether his sudden descent had carried with it a fortune of more than $100,000 that was bequeathed to him by Judge John C. Kennedy is not known. The late Judge took Hanson into his home as an orphan and allowed him to take the place of a son.

Boy Gives Life Savings to Smith Campaign

New York, Sept. 12 (AP)—A millionaire and a 15-year-old boy repaid the Smith campaign coffers by $27,365 today.

Nicholas Schenck, theater magnate, gave a check for $25,000 while Billy Barker, son of Paul Barker, the publisher, contributed the remainder, which he proudly told John Z. Radob, chairman of the Democratic national committee, represented his life's savings.

Mr. Schenck and Billy were accompanied to the national headquarters by Mayor James J. Walker.

"I was going to pay my way through school with the money," explained Billy, "but father said he'd do it, so I decided I might as well give it to Mr. Smith for his campaign. I'm a Democrat."

Mayor Walker offered Billy a crisp one dollar bill as the corner stone of a new bank account, but the youngster refused it. He said the $25,000 represented money given him from time to time by his father.

MARRIED MAN DIES FOR LOVE OF GIRL

New Bedford, Sept. 12.—Leaving a letter telling of unrequited love for Miss Florida Boucher, 19, of this city, Edward MacGregor, formerly of Somerville, shot himself to death in Brookline park here.

MacGregor, who had lost his job with a Buffalo pump works, had previously written his wife in Somerville, hinting at suicide by drowning. Yesterday he slipped a note under Miss Boucher's door threatening suicide.

The girl today admitted an "understanding" practically amounting to an engagement to marry MacGregor, but said her father objected because of the disparity of ages. MacGregor wrote her he had put his last dime into a special delivery letter to her and as had to carry by the fastest mail.

Mrs. MacGregor, who lives in Hillside circle, Somerville, was notified of her husband's death and told police to claim the body. The couple had a boy about nine years old who makes his home with his mother.

ODD SOLUTION FOR HINGHAM

Residents of the Honny Riter circle section of Hingham can have all-year-round water service if they themselves contract for ditches to lay the main, at a cost not to exceed $200.

This novel solution of the deadlock, existing between residents and the Hingham Water Company was made today at a hearing before the Public Utilities Commission by the commission's chairman, Henry C. Atwell.

The company contended that the section is rocky and would require an outlay of $1,200 to lay the main on a maximum revenue of but $12,000 a year. On the other hand, W. D. Kays, one of the petitioners, argued the work could be done for about $200.

Then came the suggestion from Atwell that the petitioners contract for the digging at a cost not to exceed $200, the company to lay the pipe and later reimburse the $200. The hearing was continued.

3 WOMEN IN A POKER GAME ARE FINED

Acting on complaint of two women who claimed they lost $100, police raided a poker game in a private house on Wales st., Dorchester, arresting three women and two men who were fined $5 each in Dorchester court today.

They gave their names as Dorcas Shaw, Carrie Dale, Mrs. Sylvia Levy, Wales st., Helen Light, Herbert M., Joseph Friedman, Haverhill st., and Samuel Pillsbury, Boston st., all Dorchester.

The arrests were made on a search warrant by Sergeants Hugh Brady and William Walsh of the Mattapan police station, after one woman complained she lost $600 in the game and another $100.

The sergeant said they went to the Wales st. house occupied by the Levy women at 3 a. m., and listening outside the window heard voices using poker terms.

The policemen then broke in the rear door and found the gathering, which they claimed was discussing a new deal, a not having just been won. The police said they found $1 and some change on the table.

CLAMOR FOR PLAYGROUND PAY DISTURBS CITY HALL

There was tumult in City Hall today when 40 to 50 multiple letters to the city clerk, claiming for their pay for extra work August 1 to 21. The disturbance caused delay in paying salaried teachers. Teachers are paid Saturdays and City Treasurer Edward F. McManus, chief of help through vacation, had planned to give them their extra money next Saturday. So in protest was the clamor, however that he called Assistant Bookkeeper Arthur Swan away from his records to lay off the letters.

QUEEN MARIE TO SEEK RICH U. S. MATE?

Home, Sept. 12.—An American husband for Queen Marie, widowed consort of the former King of Rumania?

Why not? One of the millionaires of even multi-millionaire variety—of course!

Back to the gossip which is going the rounds of exclusive society circles—Home as the Italian capital begins to pick up life for the coming social season.

Coupled with the report is the name of Sam Hill of Seattle, Wash., world traveler, friend of royalty and wealthy financier.

The dedication of this story, which, in the opinion of many, was one of the principal reasons for Marie's visit to the United States in 1926, it is recalled, was that Marie was ill at ease in the Pacific coast, nor has society forgotten her on the occasion of her visit here.

Her intimate terms with Eschscholtz royalty for many years, inspired to "return" Marie Washington because of an alleged insult to the Queen and ordered him to leave Marie's private train.

Hill, son of James J. Hill, railroad magnate, has been a member of the Rumanian Queen's bodyguard for many years. He even possesses a wattle iron upon which the queen waded with her horse during the visit to this country of Prince William of Sweden, he exhibited the iron and testified to the quality of the royal cooking.

Queen Marie, although 56 years old, is one of the most beautiful women in Europe. Her beauty, however, the consort of the former King Ferdinand, is considered to have completely lost power with the death of her husband and the subsequent establishment of her regency to rule the country during the minority of the young King Michael.

GOES ON TRIAL FOR TRYING TO FREE HOPPE

Albert Adrege, a prisoner in Dedham Jail, went on trial in Norfolk Superior Criminal Court today on a charge of attempting to aid a fellow prisoner, Stephen J. Hoppe, to escape on Aug. 15.

This attempt was unsuccessful and is said to have no connection with the latest hoax made for Hoppe last Sunday morning, when two trustees were shot to death by mistake.

Martin J. Barrett, assistant town clerk, testified that Adrege and Hoppe escaped during the night of Aug. 12 and 13. He said that while in the company of the two men, he saw the car and found hidden under his coat a quantity of tools and money and two pieces of iron from Hoppe's cell, together with three keys and a silver knife. The witness said he was sure that the tools had actually all been used by Adrege, the Hoaxer and Marie being taken from the position between the cells. The jury took a view of the scene.

"Not a cough in a Film-ful" says Norma Talmadge after the Blindfold test

"When you see my new United Artists' picture, 'The Woman Disputed,' you will notice that I smoke cigarettes in several scenes.

"Not wanting to show partiality to any one of the four leading brands, I decided to make my choice via the blindfold test, which I had heard of many times. Happily, I picked OLD GOLDS.

"I found them smooth, mild and delightfully cool.

"Hereafter, when I am required to smoke I shall naturally insist on OLD GOLDS. There's not a cough in a film-ful!"

Norma Talmadge

NORMA TALMADGE... celebrated screen star... smoking OLD GOLDS in a scene from her latest United Artists' picture, "The Woman Disputed."

THE INCOMPARABLE NORMA... one of the best loved actresses in the history of the screen... famous for her rôles in "Camille"... "The Dove"... and "Kiki."

You can tell OLD GOLDS... just as Norma Talmadge did... by their honey-like smoothness... their kindness to your tongue and throat. Because OLD GOLD uses no coarse top-leaves of the tobacco plant... no withered ground-leaves... only the delicate heart-leaves... golden ripe!

CALLS ON RIVAL G. O. P. LIBERAL CANDIDATES TO DROP OUT

The "bench front" type of mayor was denounced today by J. Malcolm MacAuley, commissioner of public works of Boston, who announced his candidacy for mayor of that city. Commissioner MacAuley said it was time Boston was recognized as a city of beautiful homes, good streets and fine public buildings, and the bench front type of mayor was the worst enemy of the city.

He called on the four other candidates for the mayoralty office to withdraw on the ground that they are out of the proper type to lead the city for the next two years.

According to Commissioner MacAuley there will be close to $1,000,000 spent and an economical executive is needed.

SMITH'S REPLY TO BARNES IS SARCASTIC

In the letter today, Gov. Smith said:

"Dear Mr. Barnes: I am in receipt of your letter of September 9, and I thank you kindly for accepting my invitation to come to Albany and point out where the Albany pool is operating in the shadow of the Capitol, as you said in your letter. I cannot help, however, calling your attention to the fact that you in the date following primary day in Massachusetts, which would be September 13, when you must have read in the public press that I will be starting three days before that on a two weeks tour of the Middle West. I thought that your interest in the railroad and industrial workers of Massachusetts was so keen that you could get away from your politics long enough to run over to Albany before I left for the West and make good the statements that you made in your letter for political purposes."

REFERRED TO HERRICK. However, I had a talk with the director of the Albany County, Charles J. Herrick, and by your zeal and solicitude for the public welfare must wait until you have completed and submitted the plan, which will state that in my absence you call on Mr. Herrick and that before him the evidence you have of the operation of the pool in the county of Albany.

He has promised me that he would vigorously pursue before the grand jury every bit of evidence that you are able to lay before him. Very sincerely yours, "ALFRED E. SMITH."

Gov. Weeks Chosen in Vermont Against Tradition

Montpelier, Vt., Sept. 12 (AP)—Political tradition was shattered in Vermont at yesterday's primary, in winning re-nomination by the Republicans, Governor John E. Weeks became the first Governor of the Green Mountain State to be nominated for a second term since Bishop Willard's election in 1856. He also broke the unwritten law that the Governor should be chosen alternately from the east and west sides of the Green Mountains.

Governor Weeks won a two to one victory over Mayor Edward H. Devitt of Montpelier, who based his campaign on adherence to the political traditions. With 12 small towns missing out of 24 cities and towns in the State, the vote was: Weeks, 34,171; Devitt, 17,553.

The Republican nominated U. S. Senator Frank L. Greene and Congressman Edward E. Brigham and Ernest W. Gibson. The Democratic nominees are: For Governor, Harry C. Stewart; for Senator, Fred H. Martin; for Congressman, Jeremiah C. Durbin and Harry W. Witters.

Berlin, Sept. 12 (AP)—Germany spends $1,500,000,000 a year for beer and tobacco, according to statistics revealed today. That is two and one-half times as much as the annual three plan separation bill.

Matthew Wall, vice-president of the American Federation of Labor, denounced communism and expressed private loans to European nations. Such loans, he said, must be repaid by the exchange of manufactured goods, a procedure which would harm American labor.

3 out of 5 buy "used cars"

STAND for a minute on the busiest street and watch the cars go by.

You cannot tell—nor do you ask yourself—whether the driver of any particular car is its first owner—or its second, or its third.

The automobile is essentially transportation, produced not for one purchaser but for as many as may own the car until its mileage is exhausted.

The public has realized this. More than 10,000,000 families today are driving cars of which they are second or third owners. Three out of five of the cars you see have been purchased as "used cars." And this year, more than ever before, there are great opportunities in unused transportation at low cost.

The cars accepted by General Motors dealers in trade offer a wide choice of selection—and for the purchase of these cars General Motors extends the convenient GMAC Plan of credit purchase.

Dancing Daughters by WINIFRED VAN DUZER

Story of Modern Marriages and Husband Hunters

From the Screen Version by Josephine Lovett

CHAPTER II

JULY was slipping away down the side of the year and Diana was not happy. She kept up her air of safety, playing the King-and-Princess game with Dudley Rand, copying the swirling pose of the dancing statuette on the pedestal in the room of interest, reading here and there in the long reader, dancing every night till dawn, sleeping the morning hours away.

But between activities she had a way of dropping into long silent hours, hands in her lap, eyes fixed on nothing. And at such times she would see a tall boy running along a spring board, the far smooth curve of his diving line, his choppy waves, racing to the foot.

Benny Black—dear, so dear! No question of that; she loved him with all the love there was and this would be no forever.

Let him in spite of his bluntness, his prickliness—his baby stam—what could one say?

Even a staid old man could be prided himself on his own secret when he held himself above a good time.

But she, too, had her pride. If he couldn't see how things were, understand the truth about him and herself, she would do nothing to enlighten him.

Benny came to her, silent and timid, looking rather like a comic valentine in her long, awkward skirts.

"I never get a chance to see Norman," she complained. "They're having Brandy Black for dinner—do you suppose they think they can throw me at his head? Don't you?"

"Think, Ben, it's partly your fault. Norman wants to get married and there's no excuse for holding him off when you love him."

Benny put her head down. "That's it," she moaned. "I do love him—that's why I can't marry him! You don't know—oh—dear!"

"Norman eyed her thoughtfully, spoke with a new understanding running along her line. "Of course, Ben, that a man has no more right to demand an account of what may have happened to a girl in some hours than she has to him."

"You're right," she said. "I don't know what to do. I say forget it. You as you are, that's the way it is. Besides how do you know what he may have done before he knew you? No question on either side, that's fair enough, but Ben."

"The thought caught the dark girl and held her breathless. She drew her hands down her face, brushing away the tears that were her last sentence. "You believe that, Ben? You do?"

"Of course, Ben. Marriages are a fifty-fifty arrangement, Ben. Why should the man ask of the woman what he is unable or unwilling to give himself? Darling Ben, if you feel this way why don't you talk it over with Norman? He's positive, truly square, and he loves you so—"

"Nothing would make a difference to him; you'd see that. He'd be weeping again."

"Oh, Ben—couldn't you just tell me how to lose him then that?"

"Oh, I suppose you hate me now? I suppose you do?"

"Don't be silly. But Diana was shaken. That Ben should have to make such a confession! Life was strange, a scrambled thing. If they were in the room of the mirror and she walked about, looking at her repeated reflections, seeing only her friend's face, she would catch a difference to him; you'd see that."

"I don't think so, Ben. Noddy and Teddy may suspect. And Ann—"

"Oh, never say that! Why not Ann, Ben? I know it. But once when Noddy and Teddy were alone, you know the way she has of poking things out of people? They wouldn't say much—just a look—you know? It's killing me."

Diana sat beside the other girl, put her arms about the drooping shoulders, giving what comfort she could. And without warning Benny changed as she had on the night at the Yacht Club dance. It was a mood of recklessness, declaring that she did not care what happened since she was never for her anyway.

Nothing her friend could say changed like she seemed bolder herself, bent for destruction.

Hanna Ernst had not been like this. Despite the fact that Benny Black did not call she had not given up hope. Long and deep thinking convinced her the attack must be renewed from another angle and to this end she spent some of her long vanishing hours for plain white linen, dainty, smoothed back her hair under a severe straw hat and cooled at the settlement house in the factory district of western Manor Park.

Where Mrs. Selton with ostentatious levity conducted sewing classes for girls.

There, very humbly, Mrs. Ernst offered her services. And there Diana Blackton began to find an element of an assistant who seemed to demand nothing more than an opportunity to do all of her own work. Please turn to Page 12, Column 2.

VANDERBILT OPPOSES MILKMAN

DIVERS FLEE 'SUNKEN SUB' IN 'LUNG TESTS'

Aboard the Submarine Salvage Vessel Falcon Off Solomon's Island, Sept. 12 (AP)—Successful deep-sea tests with the "Lung," the navy's new breathing device, intended to enable men trapped in sunken submarines to reach the surface safely, have brought the experiments to the final stage—that of actual escape of men from a flooded submersible.

Those experiments will be conducted with the submarine 84 of Cape Charles, Va., in October, and if the results are as satisfactory as those of the first three, each of the 13 submarines in the navy is to be equipped with the device.

Three naval divers descended in a diving bell to a depth of 155 feet yesterday and across, garbed only in divers' underwear and equipped with the new device.

Breathing high atmospheric oxygen through a mouthpiece from a rubber bag which rested against their chests, the men came slowly to the surface and permitted natural decomposition of air pressure in their bodies to prevent the most dreaded divers' bends. They reported no discomfort.

The apparatus, based on the principle that it was not heavy sea pressure, but the lack of pressure upon reaching the surface that had brought death to so many men who have tried to escape from great depths, is considered by its inventor and high naval authorities as the most practical ever proposed for submarine rescue work.

GIRL IS DEAD; NURSE HELD

Mrs. Victoria Cook, 22, a nurse of Scituate, Mass., was arrested in Roxbury Court today charged with performing illegal surgery on Catherine Lickley, 24, of West Roxbury, at South End.

According to the police, the alleged operation was performed Sept. 2 and the girl died the next day.

Mrs. Cook, who has two children, waived ruling of the complaint, pleaded not guilty and was held in lieu for a hearing Sept. 21.

RIVAL ROYALTY DRY GOODS TO WED

Newport, R. I., Sept. 12.—The spectacle of a union of one of America's most famous families running the editorial office against one of his own employees, was afforded here today when William H. Vanderbilt announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for state senator from Portsmouth.

By this action, Vanderbilt, candidate for the Republican nomination for state senator from Portsmouth, becomes an opponent of the dairyman, James P. Sullivan, who to date has been the only Republican candidate in the field.

Some of the glamour of the situation was removed, however, when it was learned that Sullivan intends to withdraw from the contest.

Young Vanderbilt's decision was made public at a meeting of the Republican town committee at Oakland Park, the Vanderbilt home in Portsmouth.

While it is the first time that any member of the family has run for public office in this State, Vanderbilt's mother, Mrs. Paul Pitt Simon, is president of the Newport County Women's Republican Club, having recently been re-elected. It is understood that it was a result of her suggestion that her son announced his candidacy.

Chicago, Sept. 12 (AP)—Alaska of the sports dress section and Georgia of the novelty counter will be married today.

Alaska, 22, is Princess Galitzina, whose father was the late Prince Paul of Russia. Georgia, 25, is Princess Rodoslav of Russia, nephew of Nicholas, last of the Romanoffs. Her mother was the Countess of the Empire.

Princess Galitzina came to Chicago early this year to join her mother, Princess Alexandra. She has been working in the sports dress section at Carson, Pirie, Scott & Co. for three months ago, and got a job at Marshall Field's in the novelty goods section.

Princess and Princess met several years ago in London, where the Princess was acting as a matron. The wedding ceremony will take place at the Greek Catholic church. There will be a three-day honeymoon at the weekend, then each will go back to the home of the bride.

Mercer Meets Cochet in Title Net Tourney

MR. BOSTON

By Jack Conway

THE business firm of Cauldflower, Inc., is all set for a prosperous season, according to information from Jim Tolan, the firm's president. Mr. Tolan today issued a statement in which he declared that the firm's business was "up and running" and that the firm's prospects were "bright and promising." The firm's business was "up and running" and the firm's prospects were "bright and promising."

HAVE before me a news bulletin issued by Jim Tolan. It bears out my opinion that boxing is still very popular and that those ring men who give honest effort do not experience any difficulty in securing matches. The gymnasium give the tip off on the popularity of the ring game. When there are few clubs running, the gymnasium are usually deserted. You have to show a boxer where he is going to get action before he will consent to do any real training.

Tolan heads his news items with a few paragraphs about Al Kelle who has been working at the De Luxe Gym for his training. The bout with Bing Murphy which will be staged at Fenway Park tomorrow night. Tommy Lannen and Eddie Thomas, a couple of southpaws, were on the job each day with the New England water-weight champion.

Tony Fuente, Mexican heavyweight, has also been working at Tolan's. He will step into action with Jack Caghen at Providence tonight.

STAMMY FELLER, New England's overnight champion, has disappeared from all of the ring news and is given into the hands of the law. The story on Feller's fall is that he was found in a ditch, and he is now in the hospital.

HARRY GOLDBERGER has always made his headquarters at Tolan's. He is now working at the De Luxe Gym. He is a very good boxer and he is very popular. He is a very good boxer and he is very popular.

HUSKY RUNNERS CALLED OUT

Worcester, Sept. 12.—Purple coaches renewed their efforts towards making a polished performer out of Henry Baker, the promising fullback candidate from Southbury.

Not the Purple coaches are very optimistic concerning Baker and think he has a brilliant football future.

He seems to be one of those natural athletes and is taking to football like a duck to water.

Thousands of Men Saved Millions of Dollars

FAITHFUL reproductions of original expensive custom styles have resulted in the largest increase in the history of this business.

This is a strong statement in the face of recent figures issued by the U. S. Government showing that the total men's shoe production in America for Spring 1928 was considerably lower than the same period last year.

During the past 12 months hundreds of thousands stopped, compared the Original High Price English Models with the Regal Reproductions in our windows—stepped into our store and stepped out with a new pair of Regals—AND SAVED THE DIFFERENCE.

If all the men who purchased Regal shoes during that period had paid the same price we paid in London for the original models that we reproduced for $6.60, it would have cost them millions more.

This year we bought another New style from another Old concern. Allen & Bridge, for more than a century, have been making shoes at 4 Ryder Street at St. James S.W.I., in the very shadow of St. James Palace, the London home of the Prince of Wales.

They were awarded medals for "excellence of art and make" as early as 1851 and have continued since that time to make shoes or some of the best known men in England (I'm sorry we are not at liberty to mention their names).

Dear Sirs,

We beg to thank you and confirm your esteemed order for forty (40) pairs of fully brogued shoes at Four Pounds seven shillings and sixpence (£4:17:6) per pair.

With compliments, we remain

Yours faithfully,

Allen & Bridge

Compare these shoes in our windows TODAY!

THIS style in England is known as a semi-brogue with a "punched and notched" toe cap, vamp, outside counter and top. The Regal reproduction is an exact copy of this original style, even to the design of the tip center and the Waukenphast Wheel on the sole. The two models are identical in appearance from the invisible eyelets to the steel slugged heels.

Allen & Bridge describe the sole as an oak bark tan "muddling substance", and that is what we use. The upper leather in Allen & Bridge's original is an Imported Calfskin tanned in Oisterwyk, Holland, and in the Regal reproduction we use the same identical tannage.

Now, the question that you're going to ask me is, if these shoes are so much better, why so much difference in price. The answer, Allen & Bridge's shoes are made and sewn by hand. Our shoes are sewn by the same machine as practically all high priced American shoes.

In Allen & Bridge's shop only 4 men handle the shoe from the time it is cut until it is finished. In our factory, about 150 different persons perform some operation on a Regal shoe—AND WE MAKE ONE THOUSAND PAIR TO ALLEN & BRIDGE'S ONE PAIR.

We went to London because it is recognized as the authoritative source of men's style in shoes. And we went to Allen & Bridge because they are recognized as one of the best bespoke bootmakers in England, and we selected this style because it was worn by the best dressed men in London.

THE BOSTON AMERICAN'S PLATFORM FOR BOSTON AND NEW ENGLAND

For BOSTON: 1—Clean streets.
2—Solution of traffic and parking problems.
3—Better pay for house public service.
4—An airport SECOND TO NONE.
5—Erection of a MUNICIPAL AUDITORIUM to compare with any in the land, in order that Boston, properly supplied with first-class hotels, may be the premier convention city of the U. S. A.

For NEW ENGLAND: 1—Weld the six States into a unit through the activities of the New England Council, thus creating a community consciousness.
2—Promote intercourse with Central and South America, encouraging New Englanders to "turn to the sea" again.

3—Keeping everlastingly at the job of telling the rest of the country all about our unique advantages as Summer and Winter Playground of the Nation.
4—Foster the prosperity of our industries through (1) greater efficiency in production and (2) the use of modern methods in merchandising.
5—Promote in every way such natural resources as forests, water powers and fisheries.
6—Assist New England agriculture to better marketing methods.

Farming in the East

The Production and Problems of 16 States on the Atlantic Seaboard

Many Easterners look upon the farm problem as remote. A writer in the Journal of Industry and Finance brings it close to home.

He points out that the sixteen States on the Atlantic seaboard produce, in value, more than a fifth of all the corn grown in the United States; two-thirds of all the buckwheat; nearly half of the potatoes, cabbage, celery, tomatoes and peaches; a third of the apples and in the neighborhood of a quarter of the carrots, lettuce, peas, onions and hay.

Their production of dairy products is nearly a third. Their rating for live stock is nearly a sixth. Even of the standard cereals other than corn their output is not negligible, consisting of 7 per cent of the wheat, 3 1/2 per cent of the barley, nearly 11 per cent of the rye and more than 13 per cent of the oats.

These Eastern farmers live close to big markets and are not affected by an exportable surplus. But they have disadvantages of their own, chief of which is slow routing between farm and table.

As with their Western colleagues, their welfare hinges mainly on better marketing methods. If producer and consumer could be spared more of the unnecessary intermediate costs both would benefit and the margin now sent abroad would soon find a better market at home.

Sitting at Their Ease

Difficult Marriages, Different Ways

A PRINCESS MARRIED. SITTING DOWN

This interesting little scene shows the marriage of Princess Elizabeth, of Schaumburg-Lippe, and Herr Benvenuto Hauptmann.

It is interesting because of the personalities married, and because of the fact that, unlike the average couple, they are married at their ease, sitting down by side.

This probably, presumably, in honor of the bride's rank.

The groom also inherits "rank," for he is the son of the Gerhard Hauptmann, one of the most famous writers in Germany.

Many novels have read with deep emotion his "Sunken Bell" and other writings.

There is nothing to shock our sense of democratic fitness in this little scene.

It is right to "render unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's."

It is reasonable to render unto royalty what royalty is accustomed to. WHERE ROYALTY LIVES.

Even in the Bible, as you read the Book of Revelations, you find that heaven itself has certain RANKS AND PRECEDENCES.

These four horsemen riding out, white, black, red and pale, certainly must be more imposing and impressive than the average angel.

And you almost get tired of the elders, as conspicuous and omnipresent as a Greek chorus, and of the strange beasts that would make an ordinary angel from some Rotarian organization feel unimportant.

Always Peaceful

Leave Us Alone, We Leave YOU Alone

Briand, French Minister of Foreign Affairs, says, "I have never doubted for a single minute that the American people would show their love of peace."

The American nation has existed, independent, for 152 years. And it has NEVER made war except when war was forced upon it.

In 150 years Mr. Briand's great nation has made war on Italy, Austria, Germany, Russia, England, Egypt, etc.

The French, however, have not attacked any nation since they got rid of their kings and emperors and began governing themselves.

Seeing America First

O.O.M. INTIRE

CATALINA, Sept. 12.—This narrow 22-mile-long island is about two hours out in the Pacific by boat. It is owned by William Wright, Jr., the chewing gum merchant, and a kind of tribute to a nation's industries. It is extremely mountainous, the highest peak being 2111 feet high.

Bought by the millionaire as a "plighting" place, it is said to be proving a financial bonanza. It contains a certain expanse and country called "The Millionaire's Garden." Many modern homes here, including Tom Mix, whose palatial mansion through his name in huge electric lights on its rooftop.

The Eastern banker in his natty palm fourish from Fortuna Falls, and there are plentiful cafeterias along the shore. The island is in the shape of a crescent, with the point of the crescent facing west. There are Tent Villages and magnificent hotels with expensive tariffs in a mixed medley.

The Catalina ferry is the largest bird cage in the world, and here in the seaview space one may see in flight the African crowned crane, the Australian swan, the Canadian goose, the Mandarin ducks and the flock of molasses and parrots.

The island is primarily the flower of the miracle. It is in the line where the miracle have their headquarters with the boiling tea, the hardest finding fish known, the same fishermen are carried far out to sea. The tuna range in weight from 30 to 250 pounds, and it is needless to say the most famous of these gashalish fish.

For those whose fishing is confined to the appearing of a canned salmon for the midnight supper, the island is also golf, bathing, boating, mountain climbing and horseback riding. Having no particular use for these, my interest centered in the central thing which was of every quarter of an hour.

My impression of Catalina is that it is a delightful spot to spend the day. I would not care to be there a serial story here. Something about an island makes me fidgity — the same sort of a feeling I have when an elevator hesitates between floors.

CERTAIN POINTS ON FALSE LOGIC

By DR. FRANK CRANE

"NOW," says the trickster, "if the spirits did not help me do that, tell me how it was done."

But because you cannot explain his method is no proof that his aid was supernatural. It is simply proof that he is cleverer than you.

Here is a bottle of Hoku's Universal Ointment. Its advertisement says that it has cured thousands, why not you?

The flaw in this is that it has cured thousands. They got well anyway. Epsom salts is one of the best of medicines. If some quack had discovered it, it would be worth millions.

It is a mistake to suppose that a thing must be black or white. It may be gray.

A man said that he could ask a lawyer a question that could not be answered by yes or no. "What?" said the lawyer. The man replied: "Have you stopped beating your wife?"

A doctrine that has impeded progress in many lines has been the doctrine of "either-or."

Either this thing is true and the other false or this is false and the other true.

No middle road; no compromise; no conciliation; no possibility to see the mixture of truth and error in both.

A recently published book, called "The Survival Value of Christianity," points out the impeding effect of the either-or attitude in the field of religion.

In 1615 the inquisition maintained that either Galileo's sun-centered astronomy, which taught that the earth moved, was false or else the whole Christian faith was shipwrecked.

His tested ideas were refuted by the argument: "Animals which move have limbs and muscles; the earth has no limbs or muscles, therefore it does not move."

That settled it. The old astronomer was forced to his knees before the inquisition to "abjure, curse and detest the error and heresy of the movement of the earth."

Yet today when only the most unenlightened ignoramus maintains that the earth stands still, the power of Christianity has been far from abolished.

In 1724 John Hutchinson, a professor at Cambridge, claimed that belief in the Newtonian theory of gravity constituted "infidelity" and that it was a clear case of either Newton's teachings or the Bible.

Yet the law of gravity has been accepted and the influence of the Bible has gone on just the same.

LISTEN, WORLD!

By ELSIE ROBINSON

AMERICA'S tribute to the Unknown Soldier is a noble thing.

An epitaph of white marble, within which the warm light glimmers in a still, blue pool.

A breathing of the sky, a circling flutter of white birds against the cyprus trees, and then, dip toward the Unknown, a simple tomb, beside which, day and night, a sentry paces.

THE TOMB OF AN UNKNOWN LAD WHO GAVE HIS AMERICA HIS LIFE.

All the beauty and power of his country unrolled before that place where he now sleeps. Rich folds of grain and fruit; the savage, untamed miles of mountains with their peaks of trees, their veins of precious ore, vast factories, belching smoke and muzzles and a world of little homes which these thoughts serve.

All of that he helped to keep secure, that unknown boy.

All of it lies before him now, as he sleeps on.

And all of it does homage to his memory.

It is well for a great nation to build a monument like that to some brave and named Smith, or Jones, or White, who bought it with freedom with his young, clean blood.

But it should also build another monument.

A splendid monument upon some lovely hill.

Not to a soldier, but to one who saw his hard and paid as great a sacrifice and pain.

AND LOOK AT THAT UPON THE LAND THEIR BUILT.

And see our spirits dancing home at their feet.

New Ocean—New Danger

Protection in the Air Most Important

A wise editor says: "Sea power has been the determining factor in the rise and fall of nations." True. But there are many "seas." Once the Mediterranean alone was important. Rome struggled to control it.

Then the Atlantic was the important "sea." Nelson and Blake triumphed on it, Elizabeth's buccaners took gold from Spaniards as fast as they could bring it from South America. Now the Pacific becomes the important "sea."

But don't forget another sea. THE AIR, which is now the real ocean. Commercial navies will be protected on the surface of the water, as hitherto, airships PERMITTING.

The wise editor observes that "Dewey at Manila, Sampson and Schley at Santiago, ended the war with Spain."

So they did. But if Spain had had half a dozen bombing airplanes commanded by such men as our General Mitchell, Dewey, Sampson and Schley and their ships would now rest quietly on the bed of the ocean.

Let us cover the seas of the world with battleships and cruisers to protect a great commercial navy, in case we ever get one. But let us not forget to protect and control use most important ocean, the AIR.

Farmers of Rheims, having good crops, deposited a sheaf of wheat ornamented with white grapes on the Unknown Soldier's tomb under the Arch of Triumph. Their tribute bore this inscription: "From the peasants of Rheims, who owe their harvest to your sacrifice."

Many tributes have decorated that tomb. That from the peasants of Rheims is the best of all and would give that dead soldier greatest pleasure if he could know of it.
